

Morgen-Hymne.

Morning-Hymn.

(Robert Reinick.)

Georg Henschel, Op. 46. No 4.

Molto Adagio.

Bald ist der Nacht ein Soon night will pass; Through

End' ge-macht, Schon fühl' ich Mor-gen-lüfte field and grass What od-ours sweet the morn-ing we- - - - hen. Der Herr, der spricht: send - - - - eth! On vale and height

pp
pp dolce

Ped.

cre - - - scen - - - do 13

„Es wer - de Licht!“ Da muss, was dun - kel ist, ver - “Let there be light!” Thus saith the Lord, and dark - ness cre - - - scen - - - do dim.

ge - - - hen. poco a end - - - ed Vom Him - - mels-zelt From heav'n's ex - panse

p p poco a

durch al - - le Welt poco die En - - - gel through all the lands the an - - - gels poco

freu - - de - jauch - - - zend cre - - - scen - - - do soar in rap - - - ture glor - - - ious; Der Son - ne Sun's light, un

cre - - - scen - - - do

ed allar - gan -

Strahl durch - flammt das All, furlid flames through the world,

ed allar - gan -

do ff Herr, lass uns kām - pfen, Lord, let us strive and

ff do

lass uns sie - gen! gen!
be vic - tor - ious! ious!

mf dim.

p dolce pp rall.

Strahl
furl'd

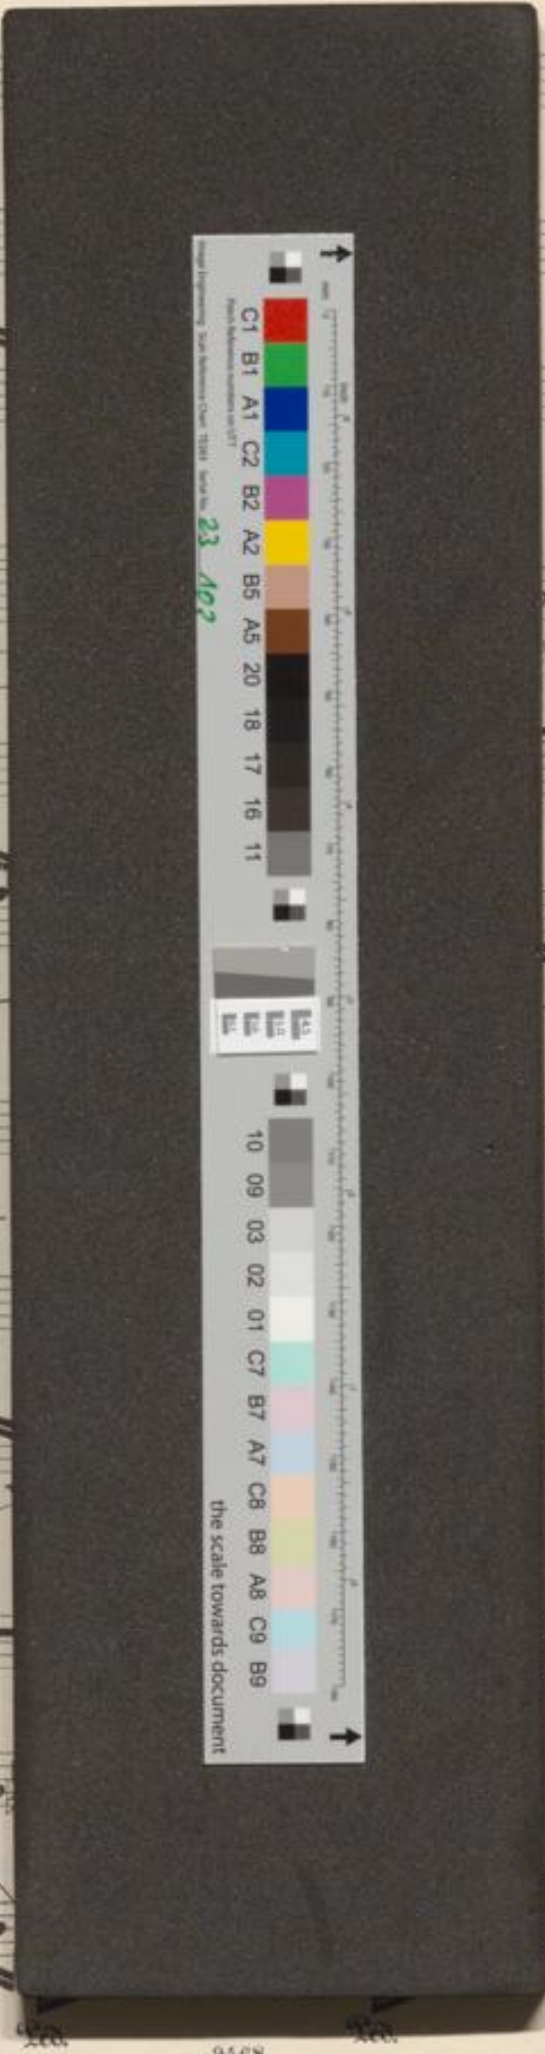

do

ff

do

lass uns
be vic

p dolce

gan

All,
world,

gan

ms kām - pfen,
us strive and

dim.

rall.